

Hit sensation

With 20 million worldwide sales and gold and platinum awards in every country around the globe. 2 Unlimited is sales wise the most successful export product of the 90's, they won 3 world music awards as 'Best-selling artist of the year!'.

2 Unlimited conquered the world in the 90's and scored a string of 16 hits in a row, with as example No Limit, Twilight Zone, Jump For Joy, Maximum Overdrive and Get Ready For This.

Many of these hits revived in films and TV series like Any Given Sunday, Final Destination, Space Jam, and still are #1 massive NBA and NFL superbowl sports anthems just to name a few. Recently also used in mega games Just Dance 3 & 4, Singstar, Mc Donalds toys and commercials for Toyota, Hyundai and Airwaves chewing gum.

2 Unlimited releases their biggest 90's world hit No Limit after the Get Ready Steve Aoki remix. The Steve Aoki remix of Get Ready was on all the Top DJ's playlists during the summer festivals of last year.

When originally released in January 1993, "No Limit" was chosen to announce the second album. It went on to be their biggest hit, nr 1 in 35 countries (including a six-week run in the UK). It also picked up an incredible string of Gold and Platinum awards with worldwide sales over 2.5 million copies.

Since the band is touring around the globe again, 2 Unlimited seems to be reborn again and find themselves to be (re) discovered by a the "new" DJ generation. Many of them confessed they were influenced in their very early days by the music of 2 Unlimited.
